

HELPING HANDS

On Aug. 6, Verizon employees spoke to elementary and junior high school students at the New York City Police Athletic League's Duncan Center, on West 52nd Street. The discussion focused on reading, financial literacy and fraud, Internet safety, etiquette and peer pressure, as well as the importance of education and achievement. Pictured are, from left to right, Martin Lopez, Leona Punzi, Joseph Perisie, Brenda Jimenez and Simone Thomas.